Introduction

Elected trustees are an integral part of education in Saskatchewan. Trustees have the responsibility to ensure that primary and secondary education put the needs of students first, making our schools, communities and our province stronger.

As elected officials, they are called to represent the views and beliefs of their constituents. In a Catholic school division, trustees safeguard the integrity of Catholic education, ensuring Gospel values are upheld in their decision-making and in our classrooms, breathing life into all we do. To do that, it is essential that trustees witness their own faith in their families, parishes and communities.

Christ the Teacher Catholic Schools' Board of Education trustees act as stewards of Catholic education, fostering home-school-parish connections to bring out the God-given gifts and talents of our students, parents, teachers and staff.

About Catholic Education

Catholic Education in Saskatchewan is as old as the province itself—even older. The right for minority denomination religious education (commonly referred to as separate schools) was included in the Canadian Constitution in 1867. When we officially became a province in 1905, the Saskatchewan Act reaffirmed the status of separate schools (usually Catholic in Saskatchewan) ensuring they would be funded in the same manner as public schools.

Within our Catholic schools, we believe the spiritual aspect of students—and all people—needs growth and development, just like the intellectual, physical and emotional dimensions of the person. We do this by fostering the God-given gifts and talents of our students and encouraging a relationship with God.

To understand what Catholic education is, we also need to understand what it is not.

- It is not competition, a parallel school system or a duplicate system. We believe parents are the primary educators of their children and that parents should be given the choice to receive support in developing a spiritual dimension in their child's growth and development.
- We are not just for Catholics. Our doors are open to anyone who seeks Catholic faith-based education for their children. We see the dignity of each and every person, created in the image and likeness of God. We recognize faith is a personal journey, and we will walk with our students no matter where they are in their journey. And that includes investigation and questioning of what our Catholic faith is.
- Religion is not just another class we teach. Yes, we have formal religious instruction, but that's just part of it. Our faith is part of who we are; it's not a thing we do.

Being a Catholic school board trustee means you have a special responsibility to witness your own faith and support publicly funded Catholic education in Saskatchewan.

The Role of Board of Education Trustees

The work of a trustee can be highly variable. Christ the Teacher Catholic Schools' Board of Education trustees act as stewards of Catholic education, fostering home-school-parish connections to bring out the God-given gifts and talents of our students, parents, teachers and staff.

It is anticipated that trustees will grow in understanding, confidence and ability over the course of the four-year term. Some of that work is done in the following ways:

Represent Constituents

As elected officials, trustees are called to represent the views and beliefs of their constituents. In a Catholic school division, trustees safeguard the integrity of Catholic education, ensuring Gospel values are upheld in their decision-making and in our classrooms, breathing life into all we do. To do that, it is essential that trustees witness their own faith in their families, parishes and communities.

Board Meetings

Trustees are expected to attend all Board of Education meetings. There are three general types of board meetings:

- Planning Meetings: closed-session meetings once per month; usually held in the evening, prior to the regular board meeting.
- Regular Meetings: public meetings once per month; usually held in the evening, after the planning meetings.
 - Also includes closed sessions of the committee of the whole.
- Organizational Meeting: once per year, at which time the Board Chairperson and Board Vice-chairperson and committee representation is determined.

Other meetings may include, but are not limited to, meetings with the representatives from the Ministry of Education and MLAs from the Government of Saskatchewan. There may be other ad hoc meetings with community groups and partners.

Trustees also participate in other planning sessions as scheduled by the Board (i.e., afternoon, evening, or weekend).

For the 2025-26 school year, the following remaining Board events have been tentatively scheduled:

April 16-18, 2026 - Saskatchewan School Board Association Spring Assembly

April 20, 2026 - Board Meeting

May 11, 2026 - Board Meeting

June 8, 2026 - Board Meeting

Trustees while on the performance of their duties shall be entitled to indemnity and expense reimbursement as noted in Section 11 of Board Policy 7:

Committee Membership and Board Representatives

Trustees have the opportunity to represent the board on committees or as appointed representatives:

- Melville Comprehensive High School – Governance Authority
- City of Melville Recreation and Advisory Committee
- City of Yorkton Planning and Infrastructure Commission
- Student Suspension Committee

The Board of Education also has trustee representation on the Saskatchewan School Boards Association (SSBA) and the Saskatchewan Catholic School Board Association (SCSBA).

Catholic School Community Council Meetings and Liaison

Trustees may be assigned to represent the board as a liaison with School Community Councils (SCCs). Attending school events and SCC meetings are examples of activities that trustees participate in to help foster home-school-parish connections and relationships.

Trustees normally meet with SCC representatives annually in a forum that provides a networking opportunity for stakeholders within the Division.

Event Attendance

Attending events is a great opportunity to build relationships with your constituents and partners. Events may include school events such as liturgies, student led conferences, pancake breakfasts, and graduations.

Trustees also have the opportunity to attend conferences for professional development and to build relationships with key stakeholder groups.

Political Advocacy

Advocating for education—specifically Catholic education—requires that you both know and understand what is important to your constituents and build relationships that help you navigate various systems to be effective in your role as a trustee.

As elected officials, it is important to build relationships with other elected representatives at various levels of governance. Some examples include trustees from school divisions; federal, provincial and municipal representatives; Ministry of Education officials; Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation and Christ the Teacher Teachers' Association; Saskatchewan School Boards Association and Saskatchewan Catholic School Boards Association.
